Words are like keys, if you chose them right they can open any heart and shut any mouth.

Keep on going and the chances are you will stumble on something, perhaps when you are least expecting it. I have never heard of anyone stumbling on something sitting down. (Charles Kettering)

Lord, when we are wrong, make us willing to change.
And when we are right, make us easy to live with.

If you tell a man there are 300 billion stars in the universe, he'll believe you.
But if you tell him a bench has just been painted, he has to touch it to be sure.

You never get a second chance to make a good
first impression.

The best way to forget your own problems is to help
someone else solve theirs.

Temper is what gets
most of us into trouble.
Pride is what keeps us
there.

There are little eyes upon you.
And they are watching night and day
There are little ears that listen
To every word you say.

There are little hands all eager
To do the thing you do;
And a little boy who is dreaming
Of the day he will be like you.

You are the little fellow's idol,
You are the wisest of the wise;
In his little mind, about you
No suspicions ever arise.

He believes in you devoutly.
Holds that all you say and do
He will say and do in your way
When he is grown up just like you.

There is a wide-eyed little fellow
Who believes you are always right;
And his ears are always open
As he watches day and night.

You are setting an example
Every day in all you do,
For the little boy who is waiting
To grow up to be like you.

You don't always need a plan. Sometimes you just need to breathe, trust, let go, and see what happens.

On June 6 1944, Allied troops stormed the beaches of Normandy (France) to open the way to Germany from the West. Victory in the Normandy campaign would come at a terrible cost. The Canadians suffered the most casualties of any division in the British Army Group.

It was a magnificent accomplishment, the strong Atlantic Wall had been breached, and supplies and men were pouring ashore to resume the advance on D-Day-plus-one. The Allies were back in Europe.

Approximately 14,000 Canadians landed in Normandy on D-Day. Inevitably the cost was considerable, but not nearly as high as had been feared. The Canadian assault force suffered 1,074 casualties, of which 359 were fatal.

Ahead lay more fighting—very bitter fighting in which Canadian forces would play their full part. The day of victory in Europe was still 11 months away.

June 6, 2019 marks the 75th anniversary of D-Day & the Battle of Normandy.

Man Refuses Seat Beside Woman Reading Bible.

It was a typical airline flight like any other until one elderly Christian woman was insulted for her faith.

The flight attendant who stepped in is facing controversy for the way she handled the situation.

Two major US airline companies have recently come under fire after the world witnessed their lack of care and blatant abuse of their customers.

But I must admit, when I read this story I couldn't help but smile.

The young flight attendant in this situation stands head and shoulders above the rest and it's no wonder this Facebook post has been shared over 83,000 times! The altercation reportedly began when a middle-aged man arrived at his seat on a crowded flight, but refused to sit down. His seat was next to an elderly white woman reading her Bible. Disgusted, the man immediately summoned the flight attendant and demanded another seat. The outraged man proceeded to tell the young flight attendant that he refused to sit next to an infidel.

The flight attendant did what any good customer service representative would do and explained that she would try to find another seat. After searching for a seat, the flight attendant returned and reportedly stated: There are no more seats in economy, but I will check with the captain and see if there is something in first class.

Almost 10 minutes later, the flight attendant returned and explained that she had found one available seat. The flight attendant continued: It is our company policy to never move a person from economy to first class, but being that it would be some sort of scandal to force a person to sit next to an unpleasant person, the captain agreed to make the switch to first class.

Before the outraged man could reply, the attendant gestured to the elderly Christian woman with the Bible and continued: Madam, if you would so kindly retrieve your personal items, we would like to move you to the comfort of first class as the captain doesn't want you to sit next to such an unpleasant person.

It didn't take long for passengers in the surrounding seats to applaud, while some even gave a standing ovation for the flight attendant.

I couldn't agree more with the brave flight attendants decision to defend this elderly woman and her faith!

This story is a breath of fresh air! It is worth sharing.

A boy gave a girl 13 roses, 12 were real, one was fake, then the boy said to the girl, I will love you till the last rose dies.

The trouble with people who talk too fast is that they often say something they haven't thought of yet.

A person is about as big as the things that make him angry.

Wouldn't it be nice to be as sure of anything as some people are of everything?
